Laurel Enaco is an associate attorney at Hofstein Meyer Rocco Finger & Weiner, P.C., where she handles a wide range of family law matters including custody, support and divorce.

Laurel graduated from Villanova University Charles Widger School of Law in May 2024. During law school, she received the Anne Bowen Poulin Award for Pro Bono Service in 2024, an honor given annually by the Villanova Law Alumni Association to the graduating law student who contributed the most meaningful pro bono service to those in need.

In addition to her academic achievements, Laurel played an active role in several initiatives at Villanova Law. She served as the President of the Pro Bono Society, coordinating numerous volunteer efforts, and was an Auction Coordinator for the Public Interest Fellowship Program. Laurel also contributed as a Research Assistant for the Villanova Law Institute to Address Commercial Sexual Exploitation.

Laurel's hands-on legal experience includes serving as a Certified Legal Intern for the Legal Aid for Southeastern Pennsylvania's Family Law Unit and interning at the Montgomery County Public Defender's Office. She further honed her skills during her year-long law clerkship at Rocco Law, which allowed her to gain valuable insight into family law matters. After passing the bar, Laurel transitioned to a full-time associate role at Rocco Law.

Before attending law school, Laurel earned her B.A. in Criminal Justice from Temple University and worked as an Intake Paralegal for a year, gaining foundational experience in the legal field.

With her dedication to family law, Laurel is committed to helping people navigate tough times by providing compassionate and effective representation in family law matters.
